

Welcome to UOL

Welcome to the University of life a true academic powerhouse. University of life is for those who have learnt more from life than any educational institution and is free to all. Together with the school of hard knocks you will find an unparalleled education encompassing the entire knowledge of the world.

The university of life requires no student loans no tuition fees no accommodation fees will leave you no debt at the end of it and you get an honorary Doctorate, so no studying required either. Bit of a result I'd say!
